

STEAM BATH QUADRANO

When it comes to relaxation, nothing beats the feeling you get in a steam bath – if the quality and workmanship are right. And this is precisely why KLAFS is able to offer you a particularly good level of relaxation. Our QUADRANO steam bath has got everything. The body is made from hygienic, easy to clean acrylic. There is a choice of colour between white and claret red (as shown here), all white, gold/mother of pearl and white/ blue. The cabin door is made of clear safety glass. The benches are completely flush with the walls, the comfortable width they offer also making them ideal for reclining. Once horizontal, relax and enjoy an even climate from head to foot. If you prefer to remain seated upright, the tiered method of construction enables you to sit in an elevated position, a design benefit preventing cold feet through extended contact with the floor. On the technical side of things, the evaporator power is aligned to the size of the cabin and gives off steam in a balanced way. The KLAFS OPTISTEAM system ensures even distribution of steam within the cabin. The intelligent steam bath control unit sets the right climate, the high level of insulation of the cabin meaning that this is retained inside. The aroma cup can also provide the right scent in the background.
